MOM'S CLUB YARD SALE SUCCESSFUL ONCE AGAIN

Attendees enjoy the festivities at the yard sale, children in tow.

WARNER ROBINS, Ga. — The annual Mom's Club yard sale took place last Friday at the American Legion in Warner Robins, and a success despite the rainy weather.

The club decides which organization they want to donate their proceeds to each year — this time they donated to Operation Arresting Hunger, a local charity led by law enforcement that helps families receive Thanksgiving meals and Christmas gifts. According to Mom's Club President Sarah Fowler, they raised approximately $900 to donate to the charity.

Many people came by the sale and contributed whether it was through buying or donating items. Some items not sold at the yard sale are either being donated to a rescue mission in Macon, while bigger items are being sold on Facebook Marketplace and items like bottles and pacifiers are being put in their community pantry.

According to Fowler, the club will also sell baby clothes and other items to local consignment shops to help those shops as well.

Although their location was different from the average yard sale, Fowler said their indoor location was perfect for the weather on Friday. Although fewer people attended compared to previous years, the sale still raised money and helped a local cause. Fowler said she enjoys helping the community and spending time with club members as well.

"Honestly, the best thing about the yard sale for us is that we all come together and work together, and we get to spend two days hanging with friends and doing something great," said Fowler.

"It truly takes a village and I am so grateful for mine," said Fowler.

Finally, she thanked the community as well.

"Thank you to this amazing community for supporting us and Operation Arresting Hunger. This could not have been done without you," said Fowler.
